[Anglican Church Campaign to Increase Adoptions in Nova Scotia]

<http://archives.anglican.ca/en/permalink/official5342>

Date: 1967 June 19

Source: Anglican News Service

Record Type: Press Release

Text: Halifax, Nova Scotia - Officials of the Department of Public Welfare have expressed thanks to the Anglican Church of Canada for its cooperation in a recent campaign to increase adoptions throughout the province.

There were 46 inquiries from married couples to the provincial coordinator for adoption services following the month-long campaign, according to a statement received by the church's social service department.

It is the first example of co-operation between the Anglican Church and provincial authorities in the adoption field. Church organized officials say they hope such a campaign might also be organized in other provinces.

Anglican clergy were asked by Rt. Rev. W.W. Davis, Bishop of the Diocese of Nova Scotia, to preach on adoption, or conduct a discussion in their churches and to circulate an adoption brochure produced by several denominations.

At present, 21 of the couples that made inquiries have completed or are in the process of completing their adoption.
